The sale of the images does not imply in any case the cession of the copyright that will always belong to the author of the photographs, except for specific cases where the sale of the copyright will be negotiated between the client and the photographer associated to Gran Angular.net. The terms of use of the images of Gran Angular.net are described in the conditions and must be always respected, except for exceptional cases where of mutual agreement Gran Angular.net and the client decide to modify those conditions.

Features and interviews

For this kind of services there will always be a negotiation between Gran Angular.net and the clients in every case.

So, there are no fixed prices for complete features and interviews, with or without images included.
